

[Download pdf] Home from the Hardware Store: Transform Everyday Materials into Fabulous Home Furnishings

Home from the Hardware Store: Transform Everyday Materials into Fabulous Home Furnishings

Kathleen Hackett, Stephen Antonson
audiobook / *ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#1361042 in Books 2010-11-09 2010-11-09Original language:EnglishPDF # 17 9.06 x .2 x 7.52l, .99 #File Name: 1605295728192 pages | File size: 38.Mb

Kathleen Hackett, Stephen Antonson : Home from the Hardware Store: Transform Everyday Materials into Fabulous Home Furnishings before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Home from the Hardware Store: Transform Everyday Materials into Fabulous Home Furnishings:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Might be OK for men but it's made for men, not women.By Nadja WestI ordered one on Jan 25, my bank paid it on Jan 27 and I received it I know not when, forget. The clear plastic cap was not in the box anywhere and without their promo saying anywhere that it's a "Gentleman's Personal Trimmer" that's what I received. I had a Panasonic for years, was fine, but I dropped it and the sound when running seemed different so after some time I threw it away; was moving and sick of packing anyway. Btw, when I needed to replace the dull blades I paid more for new blades than I had for the trimmer itself. That was Panasonic. The Panasonic had a smaller head than the one from Creation Springs via . I did try it once in desperation and it seemed fine except for when I gently blew my nose when done, on a Kleenex, it showed black stuff and none of my hair is black. There was a considerable amount of this unknown black stuff, both nostrils. I would like to have a woman's nasal trimmer. I don't think women ever have a problem with ear hair. Considering everything I would like to send it back. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Nice conversation piece. By MikeGreat coffee table book. 8 of 8 people found the following review helpful. Fun book! By R. CuevasI received this book just when we were moving into our new place and I've already used three projects in it--the drop cloth curtains, the pipe fittings candleholder, and the rug gripper lampshade. The author is very thorough with the directions and gives you a very specific list of items to buy at the hardware store. I found everything at the major big-box hardware store near my house. This book is awesome sauce! I may pull a Julie/Julia thing and do ALL the projects in the book.

50 stylish projects from the aisles of the home improvement center In Home from the Hardware Store, artist and designer Stephen Antonson and his wife, Kathleen Hackett ply the aisles of the home improvement center and emerge with a host of ideas for clever, original decorative objects any interior designer would love. Antonson and Hackett cast their eyes on pedestrian materials drain covers, cork matting, plumbing parts, light sockets, brass nails and see lamps, wallpaper, table runners, side tables, even cuff links. Organized by decorating challenge, chapters include ideas for lighting, windows and walls, furniture, tabletop, and storage. Beautiful full-color photos, including how-to pictures along with clear, concise, yet friendly instructions, accompany every project. Sidebars and quick tips are scattered throughout, providing DIYers with gentle reminders and instructions for basic tool and equipment use. Design lovers, crafters, and penny pinchers alike will find much to inspire in Home from the Hardware Store.

About the Author KATHLEEN HACKETT is coauthor of The Salvage Sisters' Guide to Finding Style in the Street and Inspiration in the Attic. STEPHEN ANTONSON is a sculptor and set designer. He and Hackett live in Brooklyn.